WHEN JOHNNY COMES MARCHING HOME

SCENES IN THE LAST DAYS OF GERMANY'S DOWNFALL

WEARING a German spiked helmet, a London soldier poses as one of Hitler's faithful Nazis keeping vigilant watch on the Rhine.

TANKS push forward from the Siegfried line through battered Kronenberg town to Cleve, which was captured by Canadians

IN THIS shelter German civilians hang out a white flag and wait patiently for Allied troops to advance and take them prisoner.

ON GERMAN SOIL, the Montreal Black Watch pipe band leads Canadian troops to the swirl of bagpipes in an impressive parade. Canadian army forces have taken the brunt of much of the victorious heavy fighting to clear the Nazis out of Holland.

ONE OF THE WAR'S most freakish bomb results is this camouflaged German locomotive and tender up-ended and balanced in the station sidings at Muenster. British tankmen and American airborne troops captured the Reich city this month.

CONSIDERABLE TOLL of shipping has been taken by Allied bombing raids. Here at Duisberg, great inland German port and key Ruhr industrial city captured by the Allies, was found these many hulks of wrecked ships in a canal by Allied war birds.

ON THE NORTH sector alongside the Canadians who attended to Holland, British troops advanced toward Bremen. After crossing a bridge over one of the branches of the Rhine, a squad moves at the double along a pleasant woodland road and ignores the German dead strewn along it. The land here is level and a contrast to the rugged Siegfried line terrain.

WAR CAN'T interfere with the British custom of taking a cup of tea when opportunity offers. This tank crew pause for refreshment in the level country of the Rhine delta. Though the Luftwaffe has practically ceased to exist, no chances are taken and the tank is well camouflaged.

GENERAL DEMPSEY in a U.S. jeep passes lines of tommyes when formally opening a bridge over the Rhine. It is 1,420 feet long, of steel with a wooden flooring.

THIS QUINTET serving with the artillery hail from London, England. They are here on the east bank of the Rhine awaiting orders to march inland toward Berlin.

FLORIDA GIRL IS GUEST TRAINER OF RACE HORSES

HERE'S VIRGINIA Russell of Miami cooling out a race-horse after an early morning workout. She's Toronto's lone woman trainer and is expected to saddle many a winner.

WOMEN HANDLERS of horses are rare but there'll be more of them if it is found that the feminine touch and intuition produce winners. Here Virginia is on friendly terms with the Woodstock stable's Lassorgia. Her father once trained jumpers here.

HER WORK won't be solely leading winners into the paddock at the finishing post. Here she is polishing a saddle, or as a horseman would rather say, 'cleaning tack.'

EVEN IN MAY it can be chilly at the workouts in the cold gray dawn and a cup of coffee at the race-track cafe is much appreciated. She is flanked by two well-known horsemen who are also shaking off their sunrise shivers. To her right is Leo Woodstock, with whose stable she has guest privileges, and left is Red Barnard.

SOUTHWEST INDIAN ARCADIA

CENTURIES ago the Supais, fleeing from their Navajo and Apache enemies, have lived in a mile-deep Arizona canyon in complete isolation. This is Chief Watahomigie.

THE MAIL is brought to this post-office by donkey pack train to the canyon bottom down a rugged trail 17 miles from a motor road running forty miles from a railway.

LIKE THE FINNS the Supai are greatly given to steam baths, and will spend three hours a day there. In these steam lodges it is really sizzling, in fact 145 degrees.

BASKET MAKING is one of the Supai specialties. The baskets, as can be seen, are real works of art. The artist is sitting in a nook on the floor of the canyon reservation which is 518 acres. The tribe numbers 227.

WOMEN IN WHITE DRINK TEA

Cheerful in the midst of pain . . . constantly on their feet . . . walking miles every day . . . Canada's nurses find relaxation and heart-warming satisfaction in a cup of tea.

TEA IS A STANDBY OF CANADA'S NURSES

FEW people have heard of the Supai Indians who live tucked away in a remote mile deep canyon in Colorado. Their little girls carry their dolls, like babies, on papoose boards.

SUPAI BOYS think nothing of jumping into the river, clothes and all, a dozen times a day. Sometimes, however, they put on bathing trunks the school teacher helps to sew.

A PORTABLE radio was a novelty and the children, never tired of listening to it, seem to wonder where the noise comes from. The tribe lived for centuries in this valley.

"I can't believe it, Unk—brushing your teeth without massaging your gums!"

UNK: Hey, Spike—quit heckling me! Gums! Why all the excitement about my gums?

SPIKE: Don't let my teacher hear you say that, Uncle Joe. We're taught in dental hygiene that gums need massage every day just as much as teeth need brushing.

UNK: Then you're 'way ahead of my school days. Okay, Professor, why do gums need this massage?

SPIKE: Now, Unk—didn't anyone ever tell you it's important to massage your gums regularly with Ipana? We eat so many soft foods, you see—the kind that let gums get tender and—Hey! How about your tooth brush? Ever spot any "pink" on it?

UNK: I'm not saying, Professor. But just suppose I did . . . what then?

SPIKE: Oh-ho, Unk, so that's it? Well, here's the lesson for today: See your dentist right away!

ALL OVER Canada today, thousands of teachers explain the value of regular gum massage to healthy, sparkling teeth.

Furthermore a recent independent survey shows that 7 out of 10 Canadian dentists recommend gum massage.

If your tooth brush ever "shows pink", heed the warning it flashes from your gums. See your dentist fast. As dentists so often do, he may suggest "the helpful stimulation of Ipana and massage."

For Ipana Tooth Paste, with massage, is designed to increase circulation in the gums, help keep them firmer, sounder.

And when gums are healthy, teeth are brighter and your smile more sparkling.

BLOWING THE JAPS OUT OF THE AIR AND OCEAN

BOMB HITS amidship broke the Jap destroyer in two and the debris is seen flying high in the air in all directions. At the same time a dozen Japanese warships were destroyed by other air attacks and 16 of the enemy's planes that tried to interfere were shot down.

RACING in for the kill, this B-25 draws near a Jap destroyer in Ormoc Bay on the island of Leyte. Picture on right shows what result was.

IT IS NOT always the enemy that suffers in these plane-carrier actions. Here is a British plane crashing on the landing deck. The fire-fighting squad run with with chemical extinguishers and tackle the flames.

Our Ford runs like new!

Our Ford runs like new!

Long life ... low upkeep ... the Ford V-8 Engine

ALL THE FORDS on the road today are growing old—there have been no new ones made since 1942. The amazing thing to owners is how well they've stood up all through the war.

In many cases they haven't had the best of care, for many of the skilled mechanics who formerly tuned them up regularly are in the armed forces, and Ford dealers must give priority to the servicing of essential transport.

The way Ford cars have kept on doing their duty during the war years speaks well for the way the Ford V-8 engine is engineered and built. Its rugged simplicity has meant low upkeep cost. Its fuel economy has made thousands of Canadians thankful they owned a Ford when the war came on.

Will the post-war Ford be powered with the same V-8 engine? Yes, a V-8 with all the battle-tested refinements resulting from the war years. Continuously since 1942 Ford of Canada engineers have developed new refinements to enhance the performance of the V-8 engine in the war zones. In the post-war models all these engineering advancements will be offered to you at once.

FREED FROM NAZI SLAVERY

LIBERATED by U.S. troops, these French prisoners of war with the tricolor at their head parade triumphantly from their prison camp down a German road. These fortunately were able to walk but many thousands in prisoner of war and labor camps in Germany have been found near death.

THESE GIRLS were Jewish slave workers in a German munition factory at Kaunitz and came from half a dozen different European countries. They are exhibiting the serial number that's tattooed on each girl's left hand.

HERE ARE the same girls showing the cross of Judah rudely daubed on their backs with yellow paint. It is on their overcoats as well as on their overalls. They are unusual in not showing signs of starvation.

ONTARIO MUSKIE HATCHERY

INSIDE THE seine net are small fish now big enough to be moved from their nursery ponds to stock rivers and lakes throughout Ontario, thus stimulating tourist trade.

THE HATCHERY handles trout, too. That dip net is full of one-year-old speckled beauties being transferred to the outdoor ponds.

BY MEANS of a vacuum tube, Henry Jackson, hatchery manager, drains off unfertile eggs. These are lighter than fertile ova.

RAISING muskies artificially is a difficult feat if you can do it and the Ontario government fishery experts do it at Deer lake, near Cordova. Two of them lift a female from a net. Eggs pressed from her will be fertilized.

Your home test can bring you SOFTER, SMOOTHER SKIN in just 14 days!

Compare your complexion with your shoulders. You'll find your shoulders look 5 or more years younger. Why? Because shoulder pores are kept clean by your regular Palmolive Soap baths—and so, able to breathe freely. But face pores, clogged with dirt and make-up, can't breathe freely and soon your complexion loses its flexible softness and ages before its time. That needn't happen to your complexion. Palmolive offers an easy way to keep it radiantly lovely.

You can look younger in 14 days! Wash your face 3 times a day with Palmolive, and each time, with a face-cloth massage Palmolive lather into your skin—for an extra 60 seconds! This easy Palmolive Massage stimulates the circulation, clears the pores to help your complexion regain its flexible softness. Become softer, smoother in just 14 days!

"I knit for Overseas and 'tend to my own knitting too"

1. All my neighbors were keen to do some extra knitting for our men overseas. The need is so great, I was glad to have the new Knitting Club meet at my home. But imagine how I felt on hearing two of the early-comers saying I spoiled my baby.

2. "And even a special laxative for the child!" they said. "How can such a capable woman be so fussy?" So, before the rest of our Club arrived, I wanted to put them straight.

3. "That's not spoiling or fusing," I said. "My doctor says babies' delicate systems need special care. And that's why I insist on special things for my baby..."

4. "...and certainly a special laxative..." Castoria, I went on. "Made especially for children, it's gentle and effective. Children like it." Then I proved my point.

5. The baby needed a laxative, so of course I gave her Castoria. The way she took it... and loved it... made those knitters agree I knew more than just how to run a Knitting Club.

As the medical profession knows, the chief ingredient in Castoria—senna—has an excellent reputation in medical literature. Research has proved that senna works mostly in the lower bowel, so it rarely disturbs the appetite or digestion. In regulated doses, senna produces easy elimination and almost never gripes or irritates.

HYDRANT SISTERS

SHORTAGE of manpower and womanpower, too, has induced the nuns of Uri, Switzerland to take over the local fire brigade. Mother Angela holds the fire hose nozzle.

THERE'S a shortage of horsepower, too. So the sisters themselves draw the hose reel to the fire. As they do not wear rubber boots, their robes are apt to be drenched.

SISTER Genevieve demonstrates first aid technique on a small boy, while the other sisters, Maria, Josephine and Anna watch her closely. They use a barrow as 'stretcher.'

Prepare

for it NOW

Through the welter of promises and predictions all of us have heard the past few years—there is one solid fact that emerges.

You can be sure of plenty of labour and time-saving electrical appliances as soon as the war is over.

All of us will want to take advantage of the new cooking, heating, washing and entertainment devices which will be available at reasonable prices for the average home. We don't think they will be startlingly new—but they will be efficient!

The question however that every man and wife should ask themselves now is simply this—"Is our home properly wired to take care of the additional 'load' which these new and extra appliances will require?"

Many householders are already doing a little bit of personal "post-war" planning along these lines. They are getting in touch with a good electrical contractor, and getting his ideas as to their requirements, and finding ways and means of getting the job done now rather than waiting until the "after the war" rush starts in.

There is a dependable electrical contractor somewhere in your neighborhood. Ask him for advice as to what adequate wiring in the home really means. Ask him about costs—always remembering that re-wiring often costs more than the original makeshift job. And of course if he uses Northern Electric wiring materials and supplies, you can be sure the job will be well done.

TORONTO DRAMA SCHOOL

CANADIAN GIRLS who same day may be great actresses are studying at the Toronto Conservatory of Music's school for drama and elocution. In a tense feminine quarrel scene, left to right, Olive Noble, Roslyn Siegel and Elaine Carroll rival the famous Terry, Bernhardt and Duse.

SHAKESPEARE is one of the school's favorite dramatists. A Juliet all ready to appear on stage and yearn for Romeo lingers for a minute or two to lend a helping hand and a powder puff to a brunette in black lace who is making up for a vampire role. There's no jealousy in Juliet.

THE SCHOOL is in charge of Mrs. Salisbury Baker and here at the rehearsal of a scene from "As You Like It" she corrects a pose for better effect. The players are Ruth Lennard, left, and Mary Joyce Phalen. Mrs. Baker makes the costumes for the school's elaborate productions.

A HOLLYWOOD FARMERETTE AND U.K. NEWCOMER

SERVICEMEN and high school boys might be presumed to have different ideals in the matter of pin-up girls, but M-G-M's young Gloria De Haven as a tomboy pleases fighting men and collegians.

EVEN YOUNGER than Gloria is M-G-M's 12-year-old Elizabeth Taylor, Hollywood's latest English sensation, who has teamed with such personalities as Mickey Rooney and Frank Morgan.

Are you in the know?

What's best for keeping metal earrings bright?

- ☐ Colourless nail polish
- ☐ Ammonia and water
- ☐ Elbow grease

They'll be all a-gitter indefinitely—if you treat those metal carbols to a thin coating of colourless nail polish. It's tops as a safeguard against tarnish! And when you need a safeguard on problem days, remember the name is KOTEX! That special safty-center gives you extra protection because it keeps moisture away from the sides of Kotex. You can feel safer . . . more assured, day in, day out!

Which part of a suit must fit perfectly?

- ☐ The collar
- ☐ The waistline
- ☐ The shoulders

A drape shape demands 20-20 tailoring. Each answer is correct. For your suit should be trim-shoulders . . . the collar nestling close to your neck. And the waistline should jibe with your own (not hit you above the belt). Wrong lines ruin your rating. Especially those "certain" lines that may bulge through when you choose the wrong napkin. So choose Kotex—for unlike thick, stubby pads Kotex has patented flat tapered ends that don't cause revealing lines.

If your friend doesn't introduce you—

- ☐ Should you just stand there
- ☐ Walk slowly on
- ☐ Feel offended

When pal Julie stops to talk with friends of hers in a public place—introductions aren't necessary. It's awkward merely to stand by. Walk slowly on. Knowing what to do can be such a comfort! So too, at "those" times, knowing your napkins can bring real comfort—the unfailing kind you get from Kotex. Far different from pads that just "feel" soft at first touch, the softness of Kotex stays faithfully yours. Without bunching, without roping. Yes, Kotex sanitary napkins are made to stay soft while wearing!

You can be Confident . . .

Kotex Wonderform Belt makes your comfort complete; holds Kotex absolutely secure with special patented clasps that are flat and inconspicuous. It's dainty, light, self-balancing, adjustable, pinless. Kotex Wonderform Belt . . . only 25c.

GLAMOROUS is, of course, a mild term to apply to M-G-M's Lana Turner, who keeps adding to the film fame she first won as a sweater girl. She has had three roles since she returned to the screen after the birth of her daughter. She radiates charm and health in this seaside scene.

EQUALLY ALLURING is this other Metro-Goldwyn star, Esther Williams, seen taking a rest on a wharf. Let it not be thought that she never goes into the sea. On the contrary she is a most accomplished diver and swimmer and spends most of her time in a pool or in the surf at a beach.

CHILDREN STAGE WILD WEST SHOW

TO RAISE FUNDS for school play equipment Tucson school children danned cowboy outfits to stage wild west scenes. Here's a typically Hollywood court session.

THE TEACHER leads the class in shooting exercises and proves that as a two-gun desperado she is just a little quicker on the draw than they are. None skipped this class.

THAT OLD prospector showing the school kids how to pan gold is the real article. He made enough from his claims to buy himself a hotel and private railway car.

DURING campaign fund week, ropin', ridin' and roughhouse replaced readin', rithin' and rithmetic. This is ropin' and even little girls pay close attention to lariat lessons.

ENGLAND'S LEADING MANICURE

IT'S KITCHENWARE CARICATURE

A MAINE Finnish artist, Ruohomaa, has created a new kind of caricature that he calls "kitchenware." Here's Hirohito.

A BALL of steel wool makes a splendid mop of hair. With scissor ends, a cup, a bowl and vase, it is his notion of Mrs. Grundy.

THIS, of course, is Hitler, forelock, tooth-brush moustache, bulbous nose and all. To make it certain, the artist added a swastika.

EXPENSIVE china might be perhaps considered the appropriate medium for a caricature of big business but in his study of a Wall Street tycoon the artist is content to stick to his kitchen crockery.

G.I. HEROES CONVALESCENCE ON FARM

Raising chickens, as on the left, is one of the many forms of work for convalescent fliers at a U.S. rest camp at Pawling, N.Y. There are cows and horses, too, as well as poultry, and plenty of amusement in addition. On this 500-acre farm there are three lakes, well stocked with fish. There's a golf course and many other sports such as tennis, boating, baseball, basketball. There are also wood-working shops, machine shops, arts and crafts projects. All the convalescents are able to move around, for none are bed cases, but many receive attention from orthopedic surgeons and physio-therapists.

GOLF upsets some people's nerves but many of these convalescent fliers find it soothing. This player has a difficult shot out of the rough but he is taking it very calmly.

SEVENTY-FIVE hours in air combat is this flier's record and now he gets more thrills on a horse's back than he ever did in the midst of anti-aircraft fire. There are pleasant bridle paths on the Pawling farm.

MILKING is an entirely new experience to this veteran with 50 combat hours but he already knows the right side to operate on and he and Elsie are getting on famously.

YOU DON'T SAY! ... "I'm just a bottle baby" says this new-born fox, "but I'm wise to the ways of the world. Soft as my fur is, they tell me that those Face-Elle tissues are just as soft! And that's a sure sign of quality in tissue handkerchiefs as in furs."

AFTER A ROUTE march, soldiers from a physical training school in York take a foot bath and then have their feet inspected and if needed looked at by a chiropodist. Army boots are hard on rookies' feet.

FIVE SETS OF VARIOUS TWINS

TWINS OF ANY SORT are naturally always interesting and this pair with silky hair and similarly striped sleep suits are especially cute. They are, of course, entitled to the honor of heading this twin list.

THESE BABY leopards are twins with but a single thought, approaching dinner time. A dog mothered them.

SHARE AND SHARE alike is a good rule for twins of any sort, even these Russian brown bear cubs, but in their case it is impossible. Only one of them at a time can get into that bath. So they have an argument.

HANS AND GRETEL, the twin baby chimpanzees, are as like as two peas and in addition well-nigh human.

BOBBIE BURNS wrote a famous poem about "Two Dogs" and he surely would have found inspiration for another in these spaniels.

ROCKETS AND MULTIPLE TON BOMBS

THE ADVANCE of the Canadians in Holland put an end to the rocket bombing of England. Here is one V-1 launching site they captured. The Germans wrecked it.

THERE was plenty of death and destruction in this train load of V-2 bombs captured by the U.S. 1st Army on a siding in Germany. They were ready to go on the launching platforms, hardly damaged by fires set by the retreating enemy.

MULTIPLE TON bombs are this engineer's specialty. He is B. Neville Wallis. Steadily since the war began he has been stepping up his bombs in size. The latest is 11 tons, the weight of which the enemy has felt.

SIX TONS is the weight of the bomb on top. One like it sank the Tirpitz at her moorings in a Norway fjord. Underneath is the 11-ton bomb which eliminates city blocks and breaks into thick-roofed U-boat pens.
